WP5	Translation and Localisation OCT 09-SEPT 2011	Translated e-learning materials, all assessment criteria for the Awards ste. The research questionnaire was translated to partner languages and German. Some additional language translations eg assessment criteria in Portuguese, Polish and Malaysian beyond the original plans. Some aspects of translation delayed by the time to get the assessment criteria finalised but re-organised to get back on track. The handbook has now been finalised for translation and will be completed on schedule before the end of year one.
WP6	Training manual in open systems OCT 09-March 2011	The research has been gathered for the Open Systems manual and a start made on using it to provide on-line training and the basis of a manual for teachers. Sctructure has been completed, information is now being poured in.
WP7	Developing supporting e- learning resources	Review of the NWLG units resulting in a decision to originate our own supporting e-learning materials Support units for Bronze units has been completed with on-going review and start on support for Silver.
	OCT 09-SEPT 2011	In comparing to the proposal - 16 units of work have been completed We have developed 8 new games supporting the Bronze criteria and created 8 manuals with guidelines for programming, supporting the Gold criteria. All these units are WP8	Quality Assurance and Certification Trials OCT 09-SEPT 2011	This was scheduled for mainly the second year. Some planning has taken place but the certification trials have had to wait until the assessment criteria were finalised and translations and training completed. The planning work will be completed this year and trials started in September.

WP9	Publicity and Dissemination	Designed flyers and brochure, produced them in English, awaiting translation.

Sector Skills Council Regular e-mail shots to all the schools in England established. This can be replicated but needs all the translations in place to follow up.

CZ: publicity of the project on company website and press release through the press portals with direction to schools. Publicity on web sites supporting using the open source with huge number of daily visitors (www.linuxexpres.cz [1], www.liberix.cz [2]). Commun cation with the Czech Research Pedagogical Institute and Association of IT Teachers - the meetings are planned after the end of the translation process.

BG: publicity and awareness raising in various specialized online and printed media. More at http://theingots.org/community/impact

ES: we have designed and printed folders and leaflets for INGOT's publicity, the kind of publicity we show and deliver on exhibitions and fairs to disseminate the project and let more and more sdudents and trainers know about Ingot Certificates and its courses in IT. We also are in close contact with the Spanish Confederation of Centres (CECE) in order to increase the number of teaching centres (schools, academies...) in which we can advertise and promote INGOT, and publishing articles and adverts in CECE educational magazine, both national and regional magazine. Also contacting biligual centres, since translation into Spanish and different laguages is still in process to start carrying out the courses. We are establishing a new googlespreadsheet as well to determine and define the different exhibitions, fairs and congresses the group has already attended or is going to attend soon.

You can also find further information about the project in the company website: www.agifodent.es [4]

B. Have there been any changes to the project activities or partnership? if yes, how do they impact on the project? Are there any changes envisaged in the future?

No changes to the partnership. Some re-organisation to cope with the delay in finalising the criteria. Impact is minimal on the proposed outcomes. We have added a considerable number of things in addition to the original proposal. Translation support on the two main web sites is new such that there is no need for technical knowledge to translate key information. Additional translations have been provided in German, Portuguese, Polish and Malaysian. 4 new qualifications will be accredited referenced to the EQF. A new pilot project has been started in Kenya.

C. How is the project management and partnership working? How well are your partners responding to their allocated tasks?

All partners are committed and enthusiastic about the project. There has been a steep learning curve because of the innovation in both pedagogical terms and technical methods. All partners have responded well to this and learning is on-going. Despite some problems with the delay of the criteria we are on-track with the deliverables. Additional work beyond the project specification will continue and we expect to deliver considerably more than originally planned.

D. Please confirm you are on schedule to achieve the results stated in your application form (as stated below)? if there are delays, please state reasons.

R13	5 dissemination conferences/workshops	2 confer ences at tended at least 3 planned for next year please comment on the transfer process to date

The key factors in the first year of the transfer process are modifying the assessment criteria and qualification pedagogy to reference to the EQF, training and language translations. This is nearly complete and then the focus next year is to continue training and run the certification trials. These require the first years work before they can go ahead. Finally the partners need support to set up self-sustaining businesses so that the transfer is sustainable when the grant funding ends. Despite some minor reorganisation due to regulatory delays, the transfer process plan is on schedule.

E. How do you monitor your project (financial and administrative monitoring systems)?

Financial monitoring takes place in accordance with the NA guidelines and the partner agreements. Partners understand that the outcomes are the key focus and that further payments are dependent on delivery of agreed outcomes. The project web sites and collaborative technologies are used to record time spent and travel and subsistence budget is allocated in line with the application. Each partner must then produce the agreed deliverables within budget. There are regular checks but formal phase reports every 6 months.

F. What are the main dissemination and exploitation activities that have been carried out by the partnership.

Details can be seen from this link. These will build further with the main dissemination and exploitation activities planned for Year 2.

G. Do you have any issues you would particularly like to discuss at the visit?

Nothing specific.

Section 2: project expenditure

A. Financial management

How are project finances managed? - Who manages the process? How frequently are expenditure checks carried out? Please include frequency of collection of invoices, how you check if costs are eligible.

The project website is used to record time spent and travel and subsistence. It is clear and transparent for all partners to see what the budgets are in each work package. Partners log their time and costs against each work package. Time and costs are then transferred into the Interim Report Financial Tables. Financial monitoring takes place in accordance with the National agencies guidelines. Rosemary Lynch manages the process. Expenditure checks are easy to do via the information recorded by each partner on the website so this is an ongoing process. Checks are made on copies of receipts, boarding cards, invoices etc after each partner meeting when these items are collected. Costs are checked against work packages and also against the Agreement with the National Agency document Part B Financial Provisions, if there is any doubt then the National Agency is contacted directly.

How are finances recorded?

The company finances are managed in Sage Line 50. The partners all record their costs on the website against the work packages. The project finances are recorded on a spreadsheet they are also recorded on The Interim Report Financial tables which have been found to be a very usefull tool in recording and evaluating the financial progress of the project. A bank statement for the companies Euro account is received every month and this is checked against expected movements in the account on the project spreadsheet.
