Are traps gay?

I have given great thought to this matter.

If the individual has not made it clear they do, in fact, have a penis, then they are to be considered a trap, as you are not aware of what you're getting into.

If an individual does, however, openly disclose that they have a penis, no matter how this may be, they are not to be considered a trap, as they've made you fully aware of what you're getting into. If you willingly go along with this, you are gay.

If you become aware, via standard method of discovering one is a trap, yet continue to go through with your endeavours. you are gay.

If you become aware, via standard method of discovering one is a trap, and cease all endeavours of a romantic or sexual sort with the individual, you are not gay.

The homosexuality of the matter comes from the awareness that the individual has a penis, yet your willingness to continue in any endeavours, be it romantic or sexual, with the individual. Please note that just because you are aware they have a penis, they are still a trap, as others do not know and you only know because of certain endeavours. I'd like people's thoughts on this.
