Information for casual visitors to the site

This is the information page for anyone visiting the site and wanting to find out more.

A good place to start is the "about us" [1] page. It is also accessible from Help link on the main menu bar.

The "FAQs" [2]provide more general information. They are also available from the help menu.

There are two web sites. The Markbook site is only for assessors. This site is for recording marks against the assessment criteria and then making awards including printing and authentication of certificates. The Learning site links to the Markbook site. This is done behind the scenes and provides a lot of useful tools to support the assessment for learning process.
